CONTINUE QUIZ INTO CHARGE OF LAXITY AT JAIL

Postpone Hearing on Charge That Prisoner Was Released to Marry

Examination of former sheriff Lester T. Tiffany and two of his former aides, in determining who are responsible for the release of Charles Foster, federal prisoner and drug peddler, from his cell in the county jail to permit his marriage to Miss Caroline Taft on November 8, has been continued until Wednesday, March 6, in federal court in Chicago. The hearing was first set for February 12. Tiffany and Jack Hoban, former night turnkey and Olaf Pohlson, formerly an assistant janitor in the court house were ready to go on the stand to testify when the press of other matters resulted in the postponement of the hearing.

Deny Knowledge.

It is understood that all three of the men will testify that they had no knowledge of the release of Foster from the county jail on the night of his marriage which took place at the home of Justice of the Peace M. J. Haney.

Pohlson, it will be remembered accompanied the couple to the home of County Clerk Lew A. Hendee to obtain a license and later signed the marriage certificate at the home of Justice Haney as a witness. He states that he did not know either of the pair. He claims that the couple knocked on one of the doors on the south side of the court house shortly after midnight and asked him to direct them to the home of the county clerk.

Foster Removed.

Foster who is serving a six month sentence for selling narcotics which expires in March but who also faces two and one half years in Leavenworth, was removed to the Cook county jail by federal authorities after it became known that he had been permitted to leave the jail to marry the 21 year old girl. Pending the outcome of an investigation the Lake county jail has been removed from the list as a place of confinement for federal prisoners.

Bellot is held that a deputy sheriff of a trusted prisoner who relieved Hoban for the midnight lunch hour on the night of the marriage released Foster.

Tiffany who has been vacationing in Florida returned home last week to learn for the first time that he was involved in a federal investigation. Relatives had kept the news from him until he completed his vacation.

Probe Accounts of McHenry Co. Treasurer

Full investigation of the accounts of former County Treasurer Harry F. Petelt, of McHenry county, was recommended last week by a committee of the board of supervisors following the report made by the H. E. Snyder Audit Company of Chicago. The committee was authorized at the January meeting of the county board to investigate the "exceptions" made by the audit company. The committee consists of Supervisor F. E. Beck, Harvard, chairman; P. F. Rosenthal, Crystal Lake; Chas. P. Miller, Dunham; D. M. Wright, Marengo; and A. H. Hale, Crystal Lake.

So startling were the facts disclosed, says the Woodstock Daily Sentinel, that the county board immediately went on record in favor of giving the committee to settle with the Treasurer full power to act in securing a complete audit of the office of county treasurer as far back as they desire to go.

Frank E. Beck of Harvard, chairman of the committee, said it would be improper at this time to drop the audit where it now stands, due to the fact that it has so far brought to light so many discrepancies.

CONTESTED VOTE TOTALS 514 IN SHERIFF RECOUNT

Both Contestants See Canvass Totals Shrink with Recount

Both contestants in the Doolittle-Tyrrell sheriff recount yesterday saw the original canvass totals shrink as the recount checkers completed 29 of the county's 75 precincts. The vote canvass following the November election gave Doolittle 745 in the 29 precincts completed, and Tyrrell 5907 in the same precincts. The recount, however, gives Doolittle 7409 and Tyrrell 5526. Thus Doolittle loses 145 votes and Tyrrell 381.

To date the vote checkers have found grounds for contesting 514 ballots. These have been sealed up and will await the judgment of the court when the recount work is completed.

Fate of Armenians Told in New Volume at Antioch Library

"The Forty Days of Musa Dagh" by Franz Werfel is the latest addition to the shelves of the Antioch Public Library. It is a novel built around the tragic fate of the Armenian people, those persecuted Christians under Moslem rule. The religious pogrom described in this book took place when the rest of the world was too preoccupied with the World War to offer any effective assistance to the Armenians.

The principal character in the book, Gabriel Bagradian, is an Armenian, most of whose life has been spent in Paris, and whose wife is French. The death of Bagradian's brother brings him to the war breaks village just before the fate of his countrymen. He conceives the plan of taking refuge on the mountain called Musa Dagh, and the plan is approved by most of the villagers in the nearby territory. The forty days these besieged Armenian men, women and children spend on Musa Dagh make a narrative not soon forgotten. Mr. Werfel's story is graphic and convincing, and above all very interesting, although the incidents described are fictitious.

The library is open from 3:00 P. M. to 5:30 P. M., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

"June in January" Out in Oregon Says CCC Worker

For many weeks it has been "June in January" weather out in Charleston, Oregon, according to a letter received here this week by Clayton Bartlett from his friend, John Sheen, who is employed in a federal CCC camp in the western state. The only reminder of winter so far was a two inch snow fall which lasted for just two days, January 17 and 18, according to John.

Sheen enclosed a copy of the snappy camp newspaper, "The Chat-terbox," which was full of spicy accounts of camp activities. John's term of enlistment will expire in March.

Antioch Loses Two Games to Leyden

The local basketball team lost two games to Leyden Friday by overwhelming scores. This was due to the absence of three Antioch regulars and the loss of a fourth before the first half was over. The second team was hopelessly outclassed.

In the first team game the locals started out as if they were really going places battling Leyden basket for basket and holding them to 10-10 score; however, with the loss of Simpson on fouls the Leyden attack gained drive and Coach Watson's men led at halftime 24-12. The final score was 64-23. Bishop led the scoring for Antioch with five baskets and a free throw. The loss of Steffenburg at center was the principal factor in the Sequoi downfall. Bishop was hopelessly outclassed in the jumping with Kossack, rangy Leyden center.

The second team fought valiantly, but they were hampered by the small floor and lost by the score of 30-18.

CONGRESS HAS MIND OF ITS OWN

Those who forecast that the present Congress, like its predecessor, would be simply a rubber-stamp for obeying the plans and experiments of the president, were mistaken. The Congress has a mind of its own these days, and it doesn't hesitate to express it. It isn't so disruptive to Presidential policies, of course, as the Congresses which wreaked havoc with the Hoover Administration, and contributed much to its collapse, but it is giving Mr. Roosevelt something to think about.

The first actual rebellion against the White House came in the Senate, when the World Court was up for a vote. Every President since the war has advocated American participation in the court, with reservations—and every President has been turned down flat by the Senate. It was almost universally believed, however, that Mr. Roosevelt would be able to do what Harding, Coolidge and Hoover were unable to do. Most big newspapers were for the World Court, as were most publicists and political commentators of both parties. It is said that congratulations were being received by World Court advocates before a vote was taken, so certain seemed the passing of the necessary bill.

Fight for the Court was led by Majority Leader Robinson—no expert on foreign policy, he is conscientious, hard working, loyal to his chief. Fight against it was led by Senators Borah and Johnson, who fear and despise any kind of a participation in European affairs. Result was that the Court was defeated—it gained a substantial majority in the vote, but not the two-thirds necessary for authorizing American participation. Some twenty Democratic senators deserted Mr. Roosevelt to vote against the bill.

That was major rebuff number one. Number two will probably arise when the President's social security program begins to be worked out. Few Senators seem to favor Mr. Roosevelt's recommendations—they have others and, for the most part, wilder ideas as to what should be done for the aged, the ill and the destitute. It is no secret that the White House is worried, is bringing all pressure to bear in an effort to subdue opposition.

The President's $5,000,000,000 public works bill has also found hard going. Congressmen are opposed to giving the sole authority for disbursing it into Mr. Roosevelt's hands, wish to earmark the money for definite purposes. As a result, legislation is held up.

Behind much of the opposition to the White House is the old element of political patronage. Mr. Roosevelt has not, in the view of many Congressmen, allowed them to make their choice of "Deserving Democrats" for government jobs; he has often disregarded the recommendations of Senators and Representatives as to state appointments. Congress is angry over this—and a Congressman, "robbed" of his chance to put constituents in easy and profitable jobs, is in no mood for joining wholeheartedly into a program advanced by the man who did the "robbing."

THE FALLACY OF "FREE MONEY"

The American public has come to look on the Federal government as a financial Santa Claus, which goes on forever distributing the bounty of "free money" for one purpose or another. One of the proudest boasts of many elected officials is that they have been able to get this appropriation or that for their state.

Current plans call for an expenditure of some $5,000,000,000 for public works by the Federal government. Much of this great sum will be distributed to the states, to spend for roads, relief, dams, public buildings or some other public purpose. When the money has been spent, citizens will look at the imposing courthouse or superhighway or whatever it created and think happily that it cost them nothing—that magical forces at play in Washington produced the money out of thin air and kindly passed it on.

Well, that $5,000,000,000 will be raised through the sale of Federal bonds. These bonds amount to a mortgage on every piece of property in the nation—every home, farm, factory or investment. If the $5,000,000,000 is divided by the number of Congressional districts in the country, the share for each district amounts to about $12,000,000. Every nickel of that money must be paid back by the American people through taxation—and they must pay, in addition, many hundreds of millions more in interest on the government bonds. Probably few Congressional districts would burden themselves with a $12,000,000 bond issue if it were proposed to vote such a debt against the district.

Unhappily, there is no such thing as a financial Santa Claus—the tax money put in your stockings is taken out of our pocketbooks—plus interest.

A STATE CAN LIVE WITHIN INCOME

Nebraska is advertised as being a debtless state today; as a commonwealth where the law prohibits pledging a state's credit for more than $100,000; and also as a state which has ridden through war and peace, drought and plenty, without issuing a dollar's worth of bonds. It built a $10,000,000 state capitol over a period of twelve years out of its annual tax levy. Its roads are paid for by a four-cent gasoline tax and motor vehicle license fees, plus the usual Federal aid.

Nebraska's government, aside from road building, is supported by a general property tax and it has no income or sales tax.

These facts seem to prove that a great state can be operated on a business basis and stay within its income.

Nebraska should be an object lesson for every state in the union, many of which are staggering today under bond issues to pay for political experiments and inefficiency which the coming generations will struggle to pay if they are ever wiped out. The taxpayers should rise up in arms, as it were, against practically every proposal that is made to further burden the people with taxes.

The lawmaker today who suggests tax increases as a way to meet state problems, is in most cases simply showing his inability as a business man to balance the public's business budget.

THINGS ONE REMEMBERS

by R. M. Hofer

The other day I was in a country grocery store on the Oregon Coast. Some travelers were getting soft drinks.

I asked the lady proprietress, whom I knew, if she couldn't make me a ham sandwich. She motioned me to one side and said that the law prohibited her from selling sandwiches unless she took out "another" license. She pointed to the wall of the store which was covered with licenses, federal and state, which were required for the sale of different products.

"But," she said, "there is now law that prevents me from giving you a sandwich," which she did.

What a picture! A free country, a little country grocery store, a hungry man—and the law prohibits him from buying a sandwich.

From Marshfield, Oregon, comes the astonishing press dispatch that two dairymen were fined, not for selling impure milk but for the high crime of selling milk that was too rich, too pure—just as it came from a good cow.

I could hardly believe my eyes. There was no false labeling, no adulteration—the crime seemed to be that they failed to "water" their milk sufficiently to bring the butter fat content down to the legal requirements for the grade of milk sold. The court handling the case gave the offenders a suspended sentence and then placed them on parole for a year.

And this happened in the land of the free! Men hailed into court and sentenced for serving their customers too well.

Business observers are now saying that what the construction industry did to break the depression of 1921, the motor industry seems to be doing on behalf of the current and infinitely more important depression. Both production and sales are rising, and it is forecast that 3,000,000 units will be sold in 1935.

Business reports continue to show improvement in all lines.

WINTER CEMENT WORK FEASIBLE

Scientific Methods Overcome Handicap of Cold Weather

Cement has been added to the list of building materials which can be handled with comparative ease under average winter conditions, due to development of scientific methods. This makes possible the laying of concrete walks, driveways, garage and basement floors, and similar activities at any time except in severest weather.

First among the several wintertime precautions is not to lay concrete directly upon frozen ground. The ground, if frozen, should first be thawed out and dried.

The different ingredients of the concrete mixer should be heated, with the exception of the cement, to around 120 degrees. Higher temperatures are likely to produce a flash set. The water can be heated by injection of live steam, where steam is available, or in any container which happens to be handy. Sand and stone should be heated separately, over steam coils, on a sheet-iron platform over a masonry firebox, or by piling it over an old iron pipe, a section of culvert, smokestack, a boiler shell or a steel barrel laid horizontally in which a fire has been built. Tarpaullins laid over the heated sand and stone will assist in preventing heat loss until they are ready to use.

A cement mixture should be as stiff as practicable, then placed promptly to prevent the loss of heat. Since cold retards the hardening of concrete, it should be protected from low temperatures. It hardens best between 70 degrees and 100 degrees Fahrenheit, so that in cold weather it is advisable to keep the temperature of the concrete above 50 degrees for at least three days.

One method of protecting walks, drives and similar concrete work is to cover them with heavy paper, then with twelve inches of hay or straw, and finally with tarpaulins or boards. Some contractors cover sidewalks and similar flat work with removal wooden or canvas tents built in panels. Salamanders, or small stoves, are often used, especially where the concrete can be enclosed.

Insured modernization loans for doing masonry work are being used by many home and building owners under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

TWENTY-FOUR STATES ABANDON SPEED LIMIT

Twenty-four states have abandoned speed limits and now prescribe a maximum speed that is "reasonable and proper," placing upon motorists the responsibility of driving in a manner that will assure their own safety and that of others.

"Illinois," says J. H. Braun, general counsel of the Chicago Motor Club, "should eliminate its 45-mile prima facie speed limit on public highways outside municipalities."

Speed limits of 40 and 45 miles are most generally in effect, it is reported to the motor club, although Idaho and New Hampshire have 35-mile limits, and North Dakota fixes the limit of legal speed at 50 miles per hour. The maximum speed limits permitted by law in states with fixed limits are as follows:

Idaho and New Hampshire, 35; Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Washington, 40 miles; Alabama, Arkansas, California, Delaware, Illinois, North Carolina, Ohio, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia, 45 miles; North Dakota, 50 miles. In all other states but these, maximum speed laws fix the limit at that which is "reasonable and proper."

Ziesing's Cows Make New Official Record

Peterboro, N. H.—A Guernsey cow owned by August Ziesing of Deerfield has just finished a new official record for production which entitles her to entry in the Advanced Register of the American Guernsey Cattle Club. This animal is two and one-half year old Connie of Thorn Hill with a production of 12,964.2 pounds of milk and 670.0 pounds of fat in class F.

Another new official record made by a Guernsey cow in Mr. Ziesing's herd this that of five year old Consequence of Thorn Hill 316218 with a production of 13,093.0 pounds of milk and 704.8 pounds of fat in class A. This entitles her to entry in the Advanced Register of the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

Weapons of Wasps, Bees
Wasps and bees are equipped with the most formidable weapons of defense of all insects. Many insects can bite and puncture with their mouth parts, but they can't do it as handily, neatly and effectively as the wasps can puncture with their sting. The sting of the common social wasp or bee is simply a weapon of defense which is not used so long as the insects are not disturbed or threatened with injury.

Postage Stamps
The post office department says that no postage stamps are legal tender, but all postage stamps since 1801, if in an undamaged condition are good for postage.

"Fiddler's Green" is the humorously imagined Elysian fields of sailors and vagabond craftsmen, where credit is perpetually good and there is always a lass, a lass and a song.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—Bids on the new post office for Wilmette were received by the Post Office Department on the 4th of this month. Last Tuesday the contract was let to the Henke Construction Company for $68,235. Approximately ten months of work will be provided in the construction of the building.

On March 1st the construction of the new post office building at Libertyville is scheduled to begin, requiring about eight months work for completion. This contract was let by the Department to the Keyser Dueret Company for $34,768.

Rivalries between Committees in the House of Representatives are not uncommon, with bitter quarrels between the respective Chairmen as to whether their particular committee should have jurisdiction over a major bill. William P. Connery, Jr., Democrat, of Massachusetts, Chairman of the Labor Committee, has been "storming" because the so-called Economic Security Bill, which provides for unemployment insurance and old age pensions, was assigned to the Committee on Ways and Means, of which Robert L. Doughton, Democrat, of North Carolina, is Chairman. I understand that Connery has gone so far as to instruct a sub-committee of the Labor Committee to hold "rump" hearings on the measure.

Sam Rayburn, Democrat, of Texas, Chairman of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, is in a dispute with Schuler Otis Bland, Democrat, of Virginia, Chairman of the Committee on Merchant Marine, Radio and Fisheries, as to which of these committees should be assigned legislation involving communications by radio, wireless, telegraph, cables and telephones. The important measure involved in the controversy at the moment is that which would permit the consolidation of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph systems.

Meaning of "California"

If the name of the Golden State were reduced to its Spanish interpretation, it is very probable that the aggressive advertising of its climate would be largely nullified, for literally "California" is a combination of two Spanish words meaning "hot furnace," writes G. R. Turner in the Kansas City Times. The Spaniards, who were the first white men to explore the state, gave to it this name because their interest was not in the cool verdant lands of the seacoast, but in the hot arid sections of the interior where it was believed gold was to be found.

Easing Problem of School Lunches

It is a simple matter to pack a nice school lunch occasionally, but when it comes to packing one every day for eight, nine or ten months of the year, it becomes quite a problem. The ideal lunches are those which are perfectly balanced from the standpoint of nutrition, are easily packed, and yet different enough from day to day so that there is no monotony—here is where planning ahead helps.

The easiest way to handle the school lunch problem is to plan for them in advance, just as for any other meal. Have fruits, crackers and cookies, sandwich spreads, and jellies on hand for the lunch boxes. On the day before choose a larger cut of meat than is needed for one meal and use what is left for sandwiches. Cold meats, such as roast beef, pork, lamb, and veal, baked ham, corned beef, boiled tongue, and meat loaf are all excellent for sandwiches when sliced thin. Further variety may be gained in sandwiches by using different kinds of bread and cutting it in different shapes.

Cold, cooked meats may be ground and used to good advantage for sandwich fillings. Here is a recipe for one suggested by Inez J. Willson, home economist.

Ham Salad Sandwich Filling.

1 cup ground baked ham
1 cup celery, chopped very fine
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
1 tablespoon cream
1 teaspoon tomato ketchup
Few drops Worcestershire sauce

Combine ham, celery and egg, season with ketchup and Worcestershire sauce and moisten with cream. This is especially good with rye bread.

A very satisfying, as well as an easily prepared luncheon for the child who comes home to lunch is a nourishing hot soup and a meat sandwich. I like to serve them together. A creamed vegetable soup, such as potato and carrot soup or a corn chowder, is relished by children, and this is a luncheon menu that the adults will enjoy, too.

TEETH and HEALTH

By Dr. J. M. WISAN
Chairman, Council on Mouth Hygiene
New Jersey State Dental Society

ADULT HABITS

ONE of my dental conferees recently informed me of an unusual case—a woman showing front teeth that gave the appearance of a saw's edge. She had formed the habit of biting threads while sewing.

There is the carpenter who holds his nails in his teeth as he works, with the result that his front teeth show a marked jagged appearance.

The pipe smoker who holds his pipe in one position continually will show what is called the "pipe smoker's dent."

Another habit that is disastrous is excessive use of the toothpicks. Usually the gum is irritated, with likelihood of gum diseases resulting.

Careless use of dental floss should be avoided, as the gums may be cut or severed from the teeth.

Brushing the teeth with a horizontal motion jams food between the teeth and forms deep and unsightly grooves and ridges in the teeth which eventually reach the "nerves."

Preventive dentistry, greater use of milk, fruits and vegetables, are among the factors that have contributed to better dental health. Dr. Wisan will discuss them next week.

HERE'S HELP ON SELECTION OF FROSTINGS

Flatter your cake with frostings that appeal. Even the one-egg cake rises to the occasion in a party dress of smooth, velvety textured frosting.

Mocha Cocoa Frosting (uncooked)

1/3 cup butter
4 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup strong coffee infusion
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cream butter thoroughly. Sift sugar, salt and cocoa together, add to the butter gradually. Add coffee infusion until of the right consistency to spread. Add flavoring. Spread on warm cake. (This makes a rich light golden brown frosting of a very buttery consistency. It keeps excellent and is as delicious three days after making as on the first. Perfect on sponge and light mixtures, eclairs, cup cakes and fancy tacking generally.)

Ever Ready Frosting (uncooked)

1 tablespoon butter
1 cup sifted confectioner's sugar
2 egg yolks
1/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 ounces melted baking chocolate.
Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together well, add egg yolks, milk and vanilla and beat. Add melted chocolate and beat until well blended. Place bowl in pan of ice water and continue beating with rotary beater until of right consistency (three to five minutes). Spread on warm cake. (This is a medium dark frosting with less gloss. It has a very delicate spongy consistency and does not dry out even when several days old. Delicious on sponge layers, eclairs, delicate white cakes and all usual layers.)

Seven-Minute Frosting (cooked)

2 unbeaten egg whites
1 1/2 cups fine sugar
5 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
Place all ingredients but vanilla in a double boiler and beat with rotary beater until well blended. Place over rapidly boiling water and beat constantly with rotary beater. Cook seven minutes or until frosting will stand up in peaks. Remove from fire and add vanilla and beat until thick. Spread on cold cake. This frosting is the perfect quick substitute for the more difficult boiled icing. It is handled easier, is less likely to form a glazed crust and is suitable for any white frosting required on dark cakes such as devil's food cake, etc.

Graham Cracker Frosting

1/2 cup cream
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 cup confectioner's sugar
2 tablespoons cocoa
3/4 cup graham cracker crumbs
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts.
Put cream in bowl. Add melted butter, sugar and cocoa and blend well. Add graham cracker crumbs and beat until creamy. Add flavoring. Add chopped nut meats. Spread on warm cake. (This unusual frosting has interesting consistency as well as delicious flavor. It stands up well and does not dry out. Excellent for all sponge, light cakes, and fancy individual tea cakes.)

Rainbow Lime Frosting

1 tablespoon lime gelatin
3 tablespoons boiling water
1 tablespoon butter, melted
1/16 teaspoon salt
1 2/3 cup confectioner's sugar
Combine gelatin and water in up-

Don't Say You Won't—

Suppose someone tells you that in 1950 you're going to shave your hair entirely off, wear wooden clogs, rubber hats, metal stockings, and fur pants—don't throw back your head and laugh derisively. You never know. Fashion is stranger than fiction, any day. The proof is in the pudding; excerpts gleaned from old fashion magazines. Here they are:

"Wash gloves may be worn, but are always less elegant than suede." (July 1925).

"All of the shops are showing the new and brilliant beach pyjamas, so daringly sponsored by one lone Newport leader last summer. Will they or won't they be seen at Palm Beach? It is unlikely that they will become very popular." (January 1925).

"Mrs. Castle did the newest thing in coiffures when she bobbed her hair. This is such a radical departure from the usual and would be so hard to wear in the majority of cases that there is little likelihood of its general adoption." (February 1915).

"The wild idea of dancing between courses at dinner is a grotesque phase of an otherwise harmless mania." (April 1913).

"Don't adopt the mannish mode. Reserve the boyish atmosphere for sports, the only time it is really appropriate for a girl." (June 1924).

"Short gloves with short sleeves always give a 'Sis Hopkins' effect that is disastrous to chic." (July 1925).

"Our modest custom of considering stockings and skirt necessary complement of a bathing costume is so much due to aesthetics as to prudery. They really do lend charm to the costume as a whole." (June 1913).

"Now comes, in liquid form, an enamel for the nails. It gives a beautiful finish without any appearance of artificial glaze, which is in very bad taste." (June 1912).

"Use rose for your nails, not red." (June 1924).

"Bangs are fast." (1916).

"It is now at least 10 years since the bob made a definite and, probably permanent appearance in the mode and so youthful is it and so practical, that never again, one feels safe in prophesying, will bobbed hair be out of fashion." (July 1926).

"Our grandmothers knew a lady wasn't a lady if she put her gloves on in the street." (Feb. 1934.)

per part of small, deep double boiler or in bowl. Place over boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add butter, sugar and salt. Stir vigorously until soft and of right consistency to pour. Drop cake cubes into frosting, turning until all sides are covered. Remove cakes from frosting with fork. Place on rack to cool. Garnish with coconut, pistachio nuts, white, assorted or silver candies, currants or candied cherries. Makes two-thirds cup frosting.

Using the same quantities of confectioner's sugar, butter and salt, other combinations of gelatin and liquid for an assortment of rainbow frostings are:

Cream Frosting
1 tablespoon lemon gelatin and 3 tablespoons water

Lemon Frosting
1 tablespoon lemon gelatin, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons water.

Pink Strawberry Frosting
1 tablespoon lemon gelatin (or strawberry).
3 tablespoons fresh strawberry juice.

Strawberry Fruit Frosting.
1 tablespoon strawberry gelatin
1 1/2 tablespoons crushed fresh strawberries.

Grape Frosting
1 tablespoon lemon gelatin, 3 tablespoons grape juice.

Pineapple Frosting
1 tablespoon lemon gelatin
3 tablespoons canned pineapple juice.

Fudge Frosting
2/3 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cocoa
1 tablespoon corn starch
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup hot water
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cook in double boiler.

Boiled Frosting
1 cup sugar
Small 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
4 tablespoons water.
Boil until you can find it in cold water. Add slowly to 1 beaten egg white. Beat until light, flavor.

Lemon Jelly Cake Filling
1 cup sugar. Moisten well with water, grated rind and juice of large lemon, piece of butter, 3 beaten egg yolks, or 2 whole eggs. Cook 15 minutes over water.

Some Great Musicians
Victor Herbert was taken to Germany at the age of seven and all of his musical education was obtained there. John Philip Sousa, born in Washington, began his musical education in that city at the age of six, under Eupratia and Benkert; he was a violin soloist at eleven and a teacher of harmony at fifteen.

Ever Inva.
Jud Tunkins says he has listened to many speeches and has pretty nearly decided that even a speechman needs a political pull to get it across.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Mental Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Parties

In large sections of the country February is the "party month." It is because many states observe Washington's birthday and Lincoln's birthday, and always there is St. Valentine's Day.

I like to think of them educationally, for they do represent opportunities. In the first place, the party itself is an educational situation, since after all education is the acquisition of experiences. In turn, party experiences lead to habits, attitudes, and knowledges.

But the kind and influence of the experiences depends a lot upon the adults behind the scenes. There are the little decencies and etiquette of behavior. To feel at ease at mixed social affairs is a blessing many times in life. The party offers the chance to give that feeling to children at an early age. Through games and stunts we can help build an attitude toward sportsmanship. We can make fun the primary object of playing. If we're very wise we can do more for the self-conscious, shy, retiring child than by any other means at our disposal.

The "cats" are always important of course. While we shouldn't talk health diets at parties, we can discover attractive and tasty combinations of fruits, custards, ice cream, and cakes. For beverages, fruit punches and tea.

Milk drinks can't be beat. A pure sweet at the end is never objectionable. Finally, we can, as sponsors, observe the bedtime rule in the case of evening parties.

The subject of rewards is often a puzzling one. Dr. Ireland will discuss it next week.

My Favorite Recipes

Frances Lee Barton says:

FAMILY like cake? Here's one that sounds like the old-fashioned flower names in my grandmother's garden:
Feather Spice Cake. It's as good as it sounds, too, feather light and delicately spiced. (Diplomatic note: Let the family in the kitchen when you take this cake out of the oven—general enthusiasm guaranteed.)

Feather Spice Cake
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; 1/2 teaspoon mace; 1/4 teaspoon cloves; 1/2 cup butter or other shortening; 1 cup sugar; 2 eggs, unbeaten; 1/3 cup molasses; 3/4 cup milk.

Sift flour, once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and spices, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Then add molasses and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until done. Spread Fluffy Mocha Frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Sprinkle nuts on sides. Double recipe to make three 10-inch layers.

Fluffy Mocha Frosting
1/3 cup butter; 4 cups sifted confectioner's sugar; 3/4 tablespoons cocoa; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1/3 cup strong coffee (about); 1 teaspoon vanilla; 1/4 cup broken walnut meats, toasted.

Cream butter. Sift sugar, cocoa, and salt together. Add part of sugar mixture gradually to butter, blending after each addition. Add remaining sugar mixture, alternately with coffee, until of right consistency to spread. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Spread on cake. Sprinkle with nuts. Makes enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 9-inch layers.

Dogs Have Topknot
Many dogs of the Mexican hairless variety are crested with a topknot and carry a tuft of hair at the tip of the tail. . . . In others it is bristly and upright. The eyes, lashes, are yellow, hazel or dark bordered with pink or dark rim like that of an impatient race horse. The nervous tremor of the muscles and sinews is characteristic. Not classed for any particular utility, he is considered, however, a good hunter of rabbits and rats. His owners attest that his intelligence, brightness and affection more than repay that tolerance of his unprepossessing appearance.

Doom of the Mississippi
Steamboating on the Mississippi received its first setback in the general disruption of ordinary business caused by the Civil war. And it was just beginning to recover when more sinister opposition appeared in railroad competition and the old hand-propelled broad-plated and keel-boats of an earlier time, so the speedier railroads gradually took away all through river traffic and the great Mississippi pack was a thing of the past.

THE LAWYER EXPLAINS

By Attorney Bernard J. Juron

RECEIVERS

A Receiver is a person designated and appointed by a Court to take charge of property or funds while in litigation, and to do such acts as are necessary to preserve or convert them into money for proper adjustment, and distribution. We have become familiar with Receivers who have been appointed to manage defunct banks. However, the most common receivership is one employed in foreclosure suits. In those instances, the Court assumes charge of the real estate being foreclosed, and desires to have some disinterested person protect the property for the court until a final determination is made of the case. Such a receiver usually takes charge of the property, rents it, repairs it, decorates it, insures it against fire, tornado, and other forms of insurance. Where a receivership exists over a long period of time, the Court usually requires the receiver to make reports, in writing, showing the amounts of monies collected and disbursed.

The appointment of a receiver is a judicial act, vested only in the Courts. The Court appointing the receiver has the sole right of designating the person who shall so serve. In common practice, however, most judges follow the recommendation of the attorneys representing the Complainants. The person appointed Receiver must first give a good surety bond, which must be approved by the Court before he can act. Thereafter, he becomes an arm of the Court, and as such, must be treated with respect, and his possession not interfered with. Anyone daring to interfere, in any manner, with the receiver, or in any respect, molest the property of the receiver would subject himself to contempt of court, which might entail severe punishment. The court appointing a receiver also has the right to remove the receiver.

In most instances, it is very desirable and necessary to have a receiver, because, during the pendency of a lawsuit, it solves the question as to who shall be the boss of the property while a suit is pending. It provides a disinterested third party who protects the interests of all persons.

For his own protection, the receiver generally applies to the court for permission to do certain acts, such as rental of premises, expenditures for repairs, and during the hearing on such permission, all of the parties in interest can be heard, if they have any objections to the plan or proposal of the receiver. After the court enters an order, authorizing the receiver to do certain things, the receiver is protected in that no question can be raised thereafter which was not objected to in the first instance. However, where a receiver takes it upon himself to do acts without the consent of the court, he has an uneasy situation before him until the court finally does approve the same.

In the next issue we shall take up the question of Deeds.

Fish Has Sharp Jaws

The needle fish, a deep-sea denizen, has its jaws elongated into needle-like points.

While the amount of the reduction of salaries to be recommended was not definitely determined it was indicated that it might be in the neighborhood of 2 per cent for each employee. In addition to the salary cuts the committee recommended that at least two highway patrolmen be eliminated and that at least one man be dropped from the janitors' force in the courthouse.

The committee believes that by following its recommendations of reducing salaries in the courthouse the county would save about $51,000 annually. All departments of the county would be affected by the reduction.

Steamboating on the Mississippi received its first setback in the general disruption of ordinary business caused by the Civil war. And it was just beginning to recover when more sinister opposition appeared in railroad competition and the old hand-propelled broad-plated and keel-boats of an earlier time, so the speedier railroads gradually took away all through river traffic and the great Mississippi pack was a thing of the past.

Food Market Advice

Lamb, Veal, Pork Somewhat Lower

THE best news in some time is that there has been a slight easing in the prices of LAMB, VEAL and PORK. BEEF hindquarters are high, but forequarters cuts are reasonable. EGG production is gradually increasing, with some decrease in price expected, although all grades average ten cents a dozen higher than at this time last year. Some eggs are to be recommended for all families and particularly for children.

Potatoes Good Food—Low Priced

Cold weather has increased the demand for the non-perishable vegetables called "hardware" so that somewhat higher prices may be expected—except for white POTATOES, which are unusually low priced. They are a valuable food—nourishing and rich in protective food elements. Twice a day is not too often to serve them if your food budget is limited; and regardless of the size of your food allowance, potatoes should be on your table at least once a day.

Green Peas Good Value

GREEN PEAS are the outstanding value among green vegetables, though GREEN BEANS will be plentiful and comparatively low in price by next week. Since the Texas supply of BROCCOLI was destroyed, California is supplying the market but at a high price. Little SPINACH or other greens is available as most of it was frost killed. CARROTS, CABBAGE, BRUSSELS SPROUTS and CAULIFLOWER are moderately priced. LETTUCE is excellent in quality.

Grapefruit and Apples Cheap
GRAPEFRUIT are fine-grained, sweet and juicy as well as cheap. They are equally good at breakfast, the first course of lunch or dinner, in salads or desserts. They also squeeze successfully for juice.

The first arrivals of the Florida Valencia ORANGE crop have come to supplement the supply of California navel. Even this crop was damaged by the December freeze so there is not the large supply of first class fruit anticipated.

"Glacier Priest" Is Coming to Waukegan

Reverend Bernard R. Hubbard, famous Jesuit explorer, who has earned the title "Glacier Priest" from his repeated expeditions into unknown parts of Alaska, will appear at Waukegan High School Gymnasium, Washington and Jackson streets, Waukegan, on Wednesday evening, February 27th, at 8:15. This presentation is being sponsored by Holy Child High School of Waukegan.

Fifteen thousand feet of sound film, taken on his last trip will illustrate this lecture "New Valley of 10,000 Smokes" and will bring Alaska's amazing wonderland to his listeners by showing its "moon craters" that include the largest volcanic crater in the world, the weird volcanic ridge called Aghleen Pinnacles and brilliantly colored pools and scenes from the Ghost Forest.

Father Hubbard has also included amusing pictures of his dogs and their puppies and fine "shots" of giant black bears.

The terrific fight against pumice dust—photography's worst enemy and rain driven by a 100-mile-an-hour gale added to the hardships of bringing back these remarkable pictures in perfect condition. Father Hubbard's camera men were Nicholas Cavellere, who filmed "Bring 'em Back Alive" and "Wild Cargo" for Frank Buck, and Beverly Jones formerly with Fox Film and Paramount.

By using gas masks and asbestos clothing to withstand the terrific heat, Father Hubbard has been able to accurately record the highest temperature ever recorded in a volcano.

His latest discovery of two safe harbors off Bogoslof Island is of timely and particular interest to our military authorities and to our scheme of national defense. Father Hubbard is the foremost authority on volcanic phenomena and his studies and discoveries have been of inestimable value in this particular field of science.

World's Speed King Takes Family Bicycling

SIR Malcolm Campbell, famous racing motorist who holds the world's auto speed record of 272 miles an hour, this month will attempt to set a new mark of five miles a minute on the Daytona Beach speedway. When he takes his family for a spin, however, he favors the bicycle as a means of transportation. Here he is with Lady Campbell and children, Donald and Jean, on Brighton road near Hove, England, just before he sailed for the United States.

Famous French Palace
The palace of Versailles is mostly the work of Louis XIV. It consists of a central block surrounding the three sides of a large court and of two immense wings, each with a series of courts. The total length of the building with its dependencies is nearly one-half mile. It houses a picture gallery, upon which Louis XIV spent $5,000,000.

Why They Are Kisses
The small crosses or x's were at one time more important than as symbols indicative of youthful romance, writes the Chicago Times. Their origin dates back to a time when few people could read and an even fewer number could write. Nevertheless, wills and other public documents had to be signed somehow, so those who were unable to write merely made their mark. The solemnity of affixing one's signature to such binding agreements led, in a highly religious age, to making such marks in the form of a cross that the signer would kiss as a pledge of good faith and as an act of reverence. Thus the cross on paper became associated with the kiss.

Operated by Mouse Power
In the Nineteenth century, a man in Scotland perfected a machine that was operated by mouse power. Running in revolving cages, the mice manufactured sewing thread, twisting and reeling 20 feet a day, writes W. T. Hogue, Denton, Texas, in Collier's Weekly. The inventor was building a mill to use 10,000 mice when he died. Apparently he never realized the work involved in putting them in and taking them out of 10,000 cages each day.

The Double Cross
The double cross is known as the cross of Lorraine or the patriarchal cross, which dates back to the Ninth century, when it became the emblem of the eastern branch of the Christian church. It symbolizes hope and humanity and was adopted as the badge of the war against tuberculosis in 1902 at the International Conference on Tuberculosis in Berlin. In 1904 it was formally adopted as the emblem of the National Tuberculosis association.

Lies the Worst of All
Murder is treated as a minor offense by the Nagas of Assam, but the perjurer, apart from being allowed to commit suicide, is sentenced to have his head struck off.

Types of Clouds
The principal types of clouds include Cirrus—detached cloud of delicate appearance, generally white. Cirro-stratus—thin sheet of whitish cloud. Cirro-cumulus—mackerel sky. Alto-cumulus—larger rounded masses, white or grayish. Alto-stratus—dense sheet of gray or bluish cloud. Strato-cumulus—large lumpy masses or rolls of dull gray cloud. Nimbus—dense layer of dark cloud with ragged edges from which steady rain or snow usually falls. Cumulus—"woolpack" or "cauliflower cloud." Cumulo-nimbus—thunder cloud or shower cloud—great masses of dark cloud rising in form of mountains or towers.

Blonds Always Win
That men have always preferred blond hair is supported by a number of facts in history. One of the best indications is that in the heyday of wigs it was the blond ones that were at a premium. The dark wigs were cheaper and made of horse or goat hair while the blond wigs were made of human hair.

Summer Accidents Fatal
Summer is an especially hazardous season for fatal accidents. The mortality rate is 25 per cent greater than in winter or spring and 16 per cent higher than in fall.
